

DO YOU KNOW JESUS CHRIST AS YOUR SAVIOUR?

- Make a personal check-up now. Tomorrow may be too late.
- Be sure you are truly saved.
- Read the Bible verses in a King James version.

1. Are you trusting only in Jesus Christ and His death on the Cross for salvation? (1 Corinthians 1:17).
2. Do you know with all your heart that good deeds and going to church will never save you? (Galatians 2:16).
3. Have you come to God and admitted before Him that you are a sinner? (Romans 3:10; Romans 3:23).
4. Have you humbly repented, changed your mind about sin? (1 John 1:9).
5. Have you confessed to the Lord, and have you been made clean in the Blood of Christ through faith in His sacrifice for you? (1 John 1:7).
6. Do you believe God's promise that you will never be separated from Him again, never lost because of Christ's death and righteousness alone? (Romans 8:35-39).
7. Are you utterly sure that you will go to heaven when you die? Not by your own works, but by Christ taking your punishment for sin? (Ephesians 2:8,9; 1 John 5:11).

If you cannot answer all those questions in the affirmative, then come to the Lord Jesus Christ for salvation by Grace through Faith alone - and you will be born-again by the Holy Spirit.

A PRAYER:

"Dear Heavenly Father,
I know I am a sinner. I know I have not trusted in Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord. I want to do so now. I have nothing to stand on but His Blood shed for me and Your Word. I repent before You, and ask for Your Divine forgiveness in Christ Jesus. I receive Him as Saviour now, and as my only way to get to Heaven. I accept by faith that you have given me Eternal Life in Christ, according to Your Word. I want to serve You forever. Thank You Lord Jesus for coming into my life. Amen."

"For as many as received him, to then gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:" (John 1:12).

Greetings in Christ Jesus to you all. Much has happened since the last Despatch. All of us have lived through the change of the millennium and the Y2K scare, and we are actually living right now in AD 2000! What are our thoughts about all this? What has the Bible to say which will help us evaluate the strange events at the end of the year? Where do we stand now? What have we learned about ourselves and the world?

Well, it was quite a Barnum and Bailey circus show wasn't it? The lead up to the turning of the millennium, the tension about "would modern society as we have

HEAR ALL ABOUT IT - GOOD NEWS!

The most wonderful thing about God's Word is not doctrine - but GOOD NEWS!

Scripture is singing with Good News, every page has its share. Let us then end Despatch with Good News, as every Christian publication should do. Consider this astonishing challenge in Isaiah 59:1,2:

"Surely the arm of the Lord is not too short to save, nor His ear too dull to hear. But your iniquities have separated you from your God, your sins have hidden His face from you so that He will not hear."

What is the good news in this verse, surely nothing you might say.

But the GOOD NEWS is that ...

☉ God's arm is never too short to reach out to you and your loved ones.

☉ His ear is never too dull to hear your prayers and cries.

☉ His face is only hidden from you because you will not make things right with Him!

The GOOD NEWS is that He always hears those who do not hide their sins from Him. There is no separation from God when we come humbly to Him with our caps in our hands, and with our mouths full of repentance.

☉ We can never be separated from God by anything but our lack of repentance and sin.

That is GOOD NEWS!

☉ We cannot be separated because we are black, white, short, fat, tall or thin.

☉ There is no separation from God because of our race or gender.

☉ He does not separate us from Him because we have poor education, or because we are ugly or unintelligent.

☉ Nothing separates us but our sin.

God invites us all to end that problem through accepting ...

Christ Jesus as Saviour.

That is the GOOD NEWS of the Gospel.

"Jesus is at home in my situations of failure if I admit them."

THE 21st CENTURY CONFERENCE.

~ National Apostolic Prophetic ~
7-12 February, 2000.

This conference held in Australia was an integral part of the activities which brought together the churches for the Union called "Australian Christian Churches" (ACC). [p.11 this issue] The list of gullible and deceived leaders involved, as seen on the leaflets, is deeply distressing when we realise the agenda and UN engendered thrust of US Center for World Missions (see details p. 13 this issue). Here are just a few of the leaders, many of their names will be well known to the reader:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|--------------------|
| • Dr. C. Peter Wagner. | • James Thwaite, |
| • Ben F. Gray, | • John Lewis, |
| • Ps Dutch Sheets, | • John McElroy, |

| • Mike Jacobs, | • Marie Cratledge, |
| • Ps Tom Hess, | • Rob Adsett, |
| • Ps Phil Pringle, | • D. Guglielmucci, |

| • David McCracken, | • Stuart Robinson, |
| • David McDonald, | • W. Megchelse, |
| • Doug Drinnen, | • Linton Deane |
| | • Paul Tidswell. |

The well known evangelist, Dr. Bill Newman, has been quoted on the leaflet, he speaks in glowing support and encouragement! Newman says, "This is one conference not to miss (just imagine if you had missed the day of Pentecost)."

Also appearing was Dr. Stuart Robinson, in support, of Crossway Baptist Church in Melbourne. Robinson says, "The 21st Century Church Conference is an opportunity to catch a glimpse of God's greater moves..."

ONE OF THE AIMS OF THE 21st Century Church amalgamation:

To "capture how this NEW APOSTOLIC REFORMATION might IMPACT [buzz word for control and dominate] and help shape [buzz word for manipulate] the Aussie Church of the 21st Century. Also what might Australia's contribution be in this New Apostolic Reformation."

Christians know from God's Word that all pagan religions are devilish, and that we are forbidden by God to involve ourselves in any pagan religions:

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from [these things] that shall come upon thee.
14 Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: [there shall] not [be] a coal to warm at, [nor] fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, [even] thy merchants, from thy youth: they shall wander every one to his quarter; none shall save thee." [Isaiah 47:13-15] know it" end. The hype and preparations, the expectations about a "new start" for mankind and vague expectations of some new, space age global reality emerging when the first morning of AD 2000 dawned. The fire-works, the celebrations, the surge of optimism thrown forth from the media - a new bright thousand years for mankind, a New Age of humanistic Utopia begins. And then there were the Christians, they had settled into various camps in regard to the Y2K bug. Some camps went all the way with Y2K - they prepared on a grand scale for the expected bug. They were the ones who rushed away into the wilderness with enough food in their trucks to feed them for three years or so. Some went part of the way with Y2K - prepared a buffer on a minor scale (just in case.) Then the others were there as well. They buried their heads in the sand, bought Christmas presents instead of canned corn beef, and tried to pretend it would all go away. Quite an end of millennium experience wasn't it? Two or three days after New Year's Eve, I found myself sitting on my quiet front verandah roaring with laughter - it was the most astonishing, mind-boggling, stunning experience I have even been through! No wonder we got so tired by the new year.

Now we are in March, AD 2000. We might as well be in 1999, there is no difference as far as any of us can see. The new millennium dawning was like passing from Tuesday to Wednesday of any previous week! No announcements by the New World Order, no up-up-and-away with Y2K, the beggars didn't even show the golden top coming down on the pyramid on our television sets! My own massive relief about not having to cook tinned sausages over the barbecue, or having to empty our human waste into a pit in the backyard, has been replaced with a bleak "is that all there is, is that all there is?" Well, the next part of that well-known song goes on "so let's keep dancing" - but that is NOT ON!

What do we believers in the Lord Jesus Christ and God's Word do now? How do we evaluate what is now happening? How do we proceed?

"...till thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will." (Daniel 4:25).

Many of those who had no information about the NWO or Y2K have smirked at the Christians and mouthed out, "w-e-l-l-l-l - we knew there was no Y2K bug, and no problems. We knew that the Rapture wouldn't happen and that the NWO is a mere conspiracy theory." How smart people can think themselves, how wise they are after the event. Most of those smirkers, in their hearts, were as unsure as anyone else just weeks ago. They were as relieved as we all were when we passed over that "dreaded date" and entered into smooth waters. Yet, is it smooth waters or smooth waters carrying us all along on the top of a tidal wave? It must surely be the latter. These facts, I believe, should be grasped firmly by our readers:

1. The Y2K bug was so real, so dangerous, that our country of Australia alone spent 12 billion dollars to make sure we escaped disaster from its effects. Have you got it? Twelve BILLION

He claims, "God spoke to me that 'a classic evangelistic message on the Cross in the form of a booklet' would reach the whole of the so-called 'First World' and bring in a mighty harvest of souls. We have thrown the Gospel net across nation after nation."

Bonnke claims that in 1994, all 25 million homes in the British Isles were reached with this booklet with over 15,000 local churches cooperating and more than 70,000 decisions for Christ. Bonnke said that in 1995, all 40 million households in German-speaking Europe received this booklet by mail with over 40,000 people responding to the call of salvation and being referred to a local church in their area. Now, Bonnke claims that the Holy Spirit told him that North America was to be his next target.

Thus, his plan is to mail his booklet, FROM MINUS TO PLUS - THE EPIC OF CHRIST'S CROSS to all 125 million private households in the USA and Canada within less than one week this September. Those responding by sending in a decision card will be referred by computer to the nearest registered church in their area. Of course, churches are being urged to register their promise of cooperation so they can receive referrals. True believers should realize that Bonnke, like all Charismatic leaders, mixes truth with error. Along with a gospel message comes an undercutting of the gospel by adding to and taking from God's Word by claiming direct messages from God from Jesus - from the Holy Spirit which, among other serious dangers, leads people to ecumenical cooperation with liberal Protestants and Roman Catholics, both of which preach a false gospel and are under God's curse. Gal. 1 :6-10.

Beware of Reinhard Bonnke. He is a false teacher.

Dear Wendy,

Do you think that Christians should use acupuncture treatments? ... B & J [USA]

Dear Brian and Jan,

Sorry to be so long in replying. We have had a long break for a holiday - we were very tired and could not go on. We are feeling better now, although we are not exactly filled with energy.

Acupuncture is not for Christians ! Acupuncture is ancient, occult Chinese medicine. It works basically on the principles of invoking meridians and Ch'i - Ch'i is the occultic, pagan idea of 'energies' which are invisible and spiritual being in the body. There is NO proof at all that meridians, Ch'i, yin and yang actually exist, and specific acupuncture points have never been proved to exist either! If they do, they are just spiritual entities!

Modern day doctors are increasingly profession belief that the Ch'i energy fields and meridians are as real as blood coursing through blood vessels. This however is not true! They are imaginary at best and demonic at worst. → and by other occurrences in the meeting. One such occurrence being the fact that people were crawling around on their hands and knees looking for gold dust. My friend said however, that it seemed that only she and the lady were in disagreement as everyone else thought the meeting was great. "Am I out of the Spirit?" she asked.

I began to pray and research on this phenomenon and told my friend that I thought it was good that she is seeking the Lord and testing the spirits to see whether they are of God. I told her that it seemed inconsistent with the Jesus of Nazareth of the Bible who, though He was rich, became poor and didn't have a place to lay His head, would be handing out gold fillings and sprinkling people with gold dust - seeing as how He is the same yesterday, today and forever.

In doing a search on the Internet, I came across your article "The Experience Controversy." Thank you, thank you for the wonderful insight you have communicated! Your article was one of the best most balanced ones I've read. I too have found myself cornering myself as I have communicated this past week with another friend who is very positive about these strange manifestations.

You said,

"The backlash against the modern day experience-centred fiasco has become extreme in itself. If one opposes an error too strenuously one often goes too far, and ends in a counter error. A legalistic, doctrine-centred, coldly intellectual faith is NOT the Faith of our Fathers, it is not New Testament teaching."

How wonderfully you have worded this! I just had to write you and say thanks.

Pray for us here in America. We are in quite a mess and it's getting worse as people stray further and further into experience, and out of the Word.

In Christ Jesus,
Patricia Campbell

Dear Wendy,

Please accept my sincere apology for the terribly long delay in getting back to you with this information on Reinhard Bonnke. I was out of the office for a while with the flu, and compiling this information was the final thing on my list of things to do that I needed to catch up on. I am so sorry, but I do hope that this information will be of help to you. I am attaching it in a file that you can download, and as far as I know, it is in text-only format. Please let me know if it does not come through properly (I still haven't mastered this e-mail stuff!) Again, I am so sorry for the delay.

CONCERNING
OF CHARISMATIC

dollars is an unbelievable amount to spend on a mere fantasy. Our government is not stupid! The whole business of the Y2K bug is NOT OVER YET, don't rest up - pray for souls. There could well be problems over the next eighteen months or more. The bug DID NOT leave us unscathed, as train crashes, plane crashes, nuclear arms scares, electrical supply problems, sewage problems, fuel pollution and many other disasters clearly showed. If we could put together all that happened in the world due to Y2K bugs in the last months we would be horrified! It is not over yet either. Ignore the birds with their heads in the sand, let them smirk on down there. Don't expect announcements which will alert the masses to what is really happening with the Y2K bug, the powers-that-be are not that silly. They didn't tell you before, they won't own up now.

2. The New World Order HAS acted right on schedule, and is geared for MASSIVE movement this year, with conferences and activities all over the globe. Be not deceived, beloved of God. Our country of Australia is targeted with a grand meeting of the World Economic Forum (NWO heads) in Melbourne, immediately before the Olympic Games in Sydney. You think nothing much is going on this year? At insert in despatch there is a list of just a few of the activities of the international power barons for the year 2000 (that we know of!).

3. The people who have imagined that Biblical prophecy indicated that the Rapture and the Second Coming had something to do with the turn of the century, and that because nothing happened then Biblical prophecy has been proved wrong, are way off the planet! The Bible says nothing about a special date for the Rapture, on the contrary, and the change from 1999 to 2000 had absolutely nothing to do with Bible prophecy. What does have to do with Bible prophecy is the rise of the global, political and religious union which involves the whole world. This has been predicted to occur, it is the false kingdom of the Antichrist. It seems 100% certain now that the New Age New World Order is this amalgamation which the Bible predicts. This phenomenon is with us, it is not going away it is in control of the planet right now. Before it consolidates into its ultimate union, according to the Bible, the Rapture will take place - when, no one knows. God does not see fit to inform us. If you have been taught that the turn of the century should have brought the Rapture or the return of Christ you have been deceived, and do not know your Biblical scriptures on the matter.

4. The reactions of some Christian believers in regard to the Y2K bug have been less than worthy of them! And dishonouring to God in my opinion. Some have seemed quite put out that the Y2K bug did not create utter chaos in society. As though their own credibility had been destroyed by the close shave we all suffered. Like Jonah in other days they said, "but I told everyone there was going to be a disaster, I got food in and an electric generator - and now I look a fool! At least something of a major nature should have shown them I was right!" This is like Jonah getting shirty because Ninevah wasn't destroyed. After all, Jonah said it would be destroyed! No, friends, just be grateful that we are not guarding our tank water, watching our neighbours suffer without food, and that we can sit and watch the tele news at night in peace. Millions could have died if the full impact of the Y2K bug eventuated. Enough have died already in train and plane crashes! Praise the Lord for His wonderful grace and mercy. May this continue to be our lot as the months go by.

The other reaction which has made me personally disappointed is the fury some have shown against people who have given dire and strong warnings about the Y2K bug. As far as I can tell a number of men sincerely and carefully evaluated the state of computers and their programming, were alarmed, and bravely warned others. Perhaps money was made by those who were enterprising, maybe there were hidden motives, I don't know, but the thing is NO ONE knew what would happen, NO ONE. It was responsible action to give others the information on the Y2K bug, and I thank God for those who sincerely did so with the information they had at the time.

Anyone can be wise after the event.

"And all the inhabitants of the earth [are] reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and [among] the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou?" (Daniel 4:35).

"...until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:

Which in his times he shall shew, [who is] the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords; " (I Tim. 6: 14,15).

One well-known Christian publication in Australia, "Herald of Hope", commented on the "false prophets" who had been shown up by the non-event of the Y2K bug. Now this is simply not a fair comment, in my book. We heard of no prophecies at all on Y2K, it was serious, scientific fact and sensible reporting, not any airy-fairy "prophecy" that alerted people. No one should be accused of being a false prophet - men who had the information gave out the alarms as responsible adults. Anyone who has seen the data on Y2K would have to have been very irresponsible to ignore it and shut up. And anyway, the Y2K scare has been proved to be indeed real and disastrous. A list can be requested for $5 from Despatch of just a few of the problems which have already come to pass in USA.

UNITY PROCEEDS!

The bringing together in unity with a One World Religion for a United World has strange bed-fellows! At first one could not imagine that the Olympic Games, the Vatican, the United Nations, the New Apostolic Reformation of the 21st Century Church, the new united Australian Christian Churches, the Gaia Mother Earth Green Movement and the events in East Timor could have anything in common at all! If you think that, you are mistaken. They have indeed a vast global plan in common, THE PLAN for world domination.

More this issue on astounding events.

Greetings.

I am writing an article on millenarianism for Speak, a quarterly art, literary and popular culture magazine published in San Francisco, California, and I'm interested in talking with you about your website "Endtime Ministries." In particular, I am interested in hearing your thoughts on what the quiet passing of January 1 means to prophecy (if anything), and, more generally, how your thinking on the subject of the imminent end has evolved over time, and what role the Internet has played (again, if any) in that evolution. I hasten to add that my curiosity is genuine and irony-free. Rather, I have a scholarly as well as journalistic interest in "religion online" as it relates to apocalyptic predictions.

If you agree to participate, we could correspond via email, (as you are in Australia, this is probably easiest) and you could choose to speak anonymously or using your own name. I'll also be happy to cite your website in the piece, if you like. * Editorial of this Issue sent *

Dear Sir,

The World Conference on Religion and Peace, Melb., July, 1997.

Zambia is at the middle of Central Africa. Such Information as that of the above information is hard to come by if not completely impossible. Somehow, brother Heinz from South Africa gave me some information.

May I please have the full information about the above subject.

Also, I would like to subscribe to Despatch Magazine being a Christian Resource Centre. I believe you have a lot of information on the RE-Union with Italy and the Christian apostasy.

Any info.. on Christian awareness is most welcome....

Dear Brother in Christ,

4-2-2000

Love and Greetings in the most precious name of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ who will present us faultless before the presence of HIS Glory with exceeding joy.

Dear brother,

I had just seen the first two pages of your dossier, "The Billy Graham Apostasy". I would be extremely grateful if you could send the complete pack of documentation and heavier material of this Apostate Man Billy Graham.

Even though I have not read fully, know in my spirit that he is an apostate. Your material will substantiate my stand. In Hyderabad, many are planning to come for his Amsterdam meeting. I don't know when, but if you can send as early as possible, it will help me to expose the lie. God bless you for publishing....

[MINI-DESPATCH ~ IN THIS ISSUE AS EDITORIAL]

I worked the past thirteen months as a Y2K analyst at Microsoft corporation - and the realities of Y2K are known to me personally and technically - also the underlying reality that the opportunity presented itself to the New World Order to move the entire world into their one TIMEDATE STAMP which was the technical capability to have computers running on one time and one date internationally while local computers continue to appear to be running in their local format.

This was a massive and brilliant move on the part of the antichrist to create one corporate, national, economic, communication, commerce, military infrastructure globally.

More can be said on this - suffice it to say their is a new programming standard called "UNICODE" that will take this all to the next level. The first major hurdle was the TIMEDATE stamp, and Y2K afforded the perfect opportunity...

Thanks as always for your truthful and careful newsletters.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES A NEW WORLD ORDER EVENT.

The internationalist are ganging up in Australia this year of the Olympic Games.

The Games are used, of course, as a unifying influence for Globalism. There will be much that goes on behind the scenes which we will never know about. But we do know a little about the importance of the Olympic movement for the NWO.

MELBOURNE.

The World Economic Forum will meet in Melbourne just prior to the Olympic Games. This World Forum has its headquarters in Davos, Switzerland.

The Luciferial co-chair of the WEF is Maurice Strong. As we examine the various interactions WEF has through the input and activities of men like Strong the huge union and might of the occult internationalists becomes chilling clear. Our country is being dominated by a Satanic, threateningly real global power! The Olympic Games will be a great propaganda machine for these dictators.

Despatch has dealt before with Maurice Strong, but here is a brief outline again:

Brief Outline ~ M. Strong

Strong is the Canadian oil mogul who was the secretary-general of the UN "Earth Summit" in Rio and was Gorbachev's collaborator in the composing of the NWO "Earth Charter." At the Earth Summit a Declaration of the Sacred Earth was postulated. This declaration was heavily dependent on the teachings of Helena Blavatsky's doctrines of Theosophy, with the Divine Nature theme being stressed (nature is god, man is god). Strong communes with the "Masters" or demonic presences of the New Age. Strong and Gorbachev are bigger powers in the global union (which is proceeding rapidly) than most people realise. Both are workers for Gaia Mother Earth, and involved in many New Age Green Movement organisations including: Aspen Institute; Lindisfarne Association; Baca Grande spiritual centre in Colorado; Green Cross/ Green Crescent and many, many others. Behind them are the United Nations, the Club of Rome and the whole nasty crew.

Said New Age green activist, William Irwin Thompson, founder of the Lindisfarne Association:

"We have now a new spirituality, what has been called the New Age movement This is now beginning to influence concepts of politics and community in ecology ... This is Gaia [Mother Earth] politique ... planetary culture."

THE GREEN GAMES.

What is supposed to be Australia's own Olympic Games is a mere front for the activities of the New Age New World Order. Strong has declared that this year's Games in Sydney will be the "GREEN GAMES", a horrifying and open dedication of the games to Gaia Mother Earth!

From P. R. [Ind. Researcher Aust.]
We get this comment, 19/2/00:

"Feb. 18 2000. In town the same week as Mr. Samaranch [CF. PAGE ?? FOR OPUS DEI -VATICAN LINK] to do with SOCOG was Rio Summit man,

Maurice Strong, here for the overseeing of the 'GREEN GAMES.' The Sydney Games are supposed to our own Games, with a stated aim. You know, for athletes to compete against each other from all over the world, or so we are led to believe. From what was said by Mr. Strong and one of his off-siders, the Sydney Olympics are to be and known to be, the Green Games!! Strong said he was here to 'check on the transparency of the Games'?? And 'their ECO SYSTEM performance' under the term 'GREEN GAMES WATCH 2000!' Mr. Strong, the chairman of the Earth Council, said that at the moment, the Sydney Games (overall) presented as the 'Pale Green Games.' The Games are, apparently, and according to the Earth Council to 'check on Sydney's environmental performance? Perhaps Opus Dei, Mr. Strong's 'Green Machine' and Earth Council would like to see Sydney injected with a large dose of Chlorophyll before September comes upon us.

A RELIGIOUS TOTALITARIAN RULE.

The NWO Green Games is nothing more than another nail in the coffin for freedom here in Australia. The religious beliefs of the totalitarian regime under the Green Mother God, Gaia, have been seen arrogantly displayed in the most recent Olympic Games in other countries. Jean- Rousseau, the prophet of the French Revolution, said this, "No state has ever been established without a religious basis." (WILL AND ARIEL DURANT, ROUSSEAU AND REVOLUTION, p.175).

This "civil religion" has been the driving force of every murderous regime in every period of history. The Green Movement is a religious movement, the religion of the Antichrist. The Green Games are a vehicle of power, a show of global unity under Gaia. Globalist apostate priest, Matthew Fox, himself a worshipper of the Green god, said this:

"I believe the appropriate symbol of the Cosmic Christ ...is that of Jesus as Mother Earth crucified yet rising daily ...The symbol of which I speak holds the capacity to launch a global spirituality of spared the worst consequences of the folly of man. The rest are oblivious and go on in their blindness to their destruction.

It breaks my heart because those that are going this way are people that need God and need to find the truth but they are blinded by the world and all it has to offer. It is not over yet, I have known this in my spirit for two years. God is not hardly begun. The Bible plainly says that it will be in the midst of people saying "peace and safety" that sudden destruction will come upon them. The reason it is so "sudden" will be that they are blind to the truth and blind to the signs of destruction all around them. They cannot discern the "signs of the times". They are just like the people that Jesus came and preached to when He was here walking on earth. Blind guides leading the blind.

I am grateful to the Lord for all that He has done and given to me. I am busy and working and writing and praying. Do you notice now that the seeming "crisis" is past that it might be very easy to let down your guard, so to speak, and get drawn right back into old patterns? I can almost 'feel' a pull from the world calling us to come on back and join the party. This will get stronger and stronger and everyone not firmly grounded or planted in Christ Jesus will be pulled right along with the vortex of "life as usual" and become more and more unconscious of the things of God. The churches will be sucked into this more and more because they did not heed the call of the Spirit to repentance and returning to their first love.

The famine is not going to be famine of food or water, at least not yet, but there is already the beginnings of a famine of truth. I have written a book that is about Truth and getting grounded in the Truth but I wonder if I will ever be able to see it out there changing lives. For truth must change us or we have ignored the truth. Truth sets us free. No one is ever free without Truth in their actions, words, lives and hearts. Jesus is of course the Truth we all need and He sets us free from the curse of sin and death. Praise His Holy Name.

We must learn to love Truth above all things because only those that worship God in Spirit and Truth are doing so in a meaningful manner. It is the Truth that men do not want to face. The truth that they are born into bondage to sin and satan and that they need Jesus Christ in order to be free. The denial of the truth is what will subject them to the "strong delusion" that is already begun to be poured out upon the world. This is from God and only by knowing and dwelling in His Truth will any of us be spared from the lie and delusion that is already coming upon the world.

Thank you for sharing your insights and thoughts with me. I appreciate them very much as I always appreciate and love Truth. Jesus is Lord and He is in control.

Dear Wendy,

* Y2K Reply

Just a note to say that I appreciated your article [MINI-DESPATCH ~ IN THIS ISSUE AS EDITORIAL]; it was very well written and true. People must not go to sleep now. According to the Bible, it is

'When they say Peace and Safety, then sudden destruction.'

At that time people who might have been awake, will be asleep and lost.

Your calendar has some interesting events [CF. INSERT THIS ISSUE]. THERE is one you might like to include. I do not know enough about it yet, but in the Catholic Jubilee, the politicians have been forgotten, and November is their month. That is from a Catholic website.

But elsewhere (with no documentation) I have heard that 1000 politicians are going to Bethlehem in November and they are going to follow the steps of St. Paul to the Vatican! They will arrive at the Vatican on November 5.

That is all I know, but would love to hear more about it. If I find out any more, I will let you know, but would appreciate the reverse also.

Sincerely,
Margaretha

Once again I am blessed by the things you write [MINI-DESPATCH ~ IN THIS ISSUE AS EDITORIAL]. So many people are sure that Y2k was a hoax not even pausing to consider that it is by the mercy of God that things have not been much worse. Y2k was a wake up call and most missed the point entirely. On January 1st I was ill. Running a 102 degree fever, coughing, aching and hurting. The flu I am sure. I live alone and I remember laying in bed watching the celebrations going around the world on New Years day.

I was very grateful to the Lord that I woke up with heat, water, electricity and had all my basic needs met because I couldn't imagine what it would have been like if all had failed while I was so ill. I thanked the Lord and prayed and slept and prayed and slept for three days. I remember being totally dumbfounded by the continuing "party" atmosphere that was on the TV that I let run to just keep me company.

I said "Lord" they are all so oblivious". He said "just let them party on". The world will carry on and party on right up to the day of destruction. I think the fact that life seems to be going on as usual is not a blessing for anyone except those that have listened to the Spirit and repented of their love for the world and the ways and things of the world. For us, God has been merciful and we are

WEB COMMENTS ON "THE PALE GREEN GAMES":

SOCOG has denied that the Sydney Olympics are the "pale green" games. They prefer the "deep green" games! In answer to an article in the Sydney Morning Herald [14TH. DEC.1999], SOCOG commented:

"At no stage did the journalist bother to contact SOCOG for a comment. This is astonishing for an article which purports to address "just how green will our Olympics really be?"

SOCOG is responsible for staging the Games. How can the environmental story of the Games really be told without reference to, or contact with, SOCOG."

SOCOG then lists many "green" environmental initiatives to be undertaken by them for the Games.

Recent official denigration of our Defence Force seems part of the plan for a global "police force." It would not be surprising to hear the government announce that as we can't maintain our internal and external security responsibilities along with our international peacekeeping commitments, so we will hand over our Australian Defence Force to the United Nations. Australia seems to be being used as a pilot system to test out the globalist strategy in many ways. We are already getting a lot of attention from the internationalist this year of the Olympic Games, 2000.

On November 14, 1999, John Howard, our Prime Minister, said in one of his surrender speeches,

"Nobody has an option to say, 'I won't take globalisation I'll take something else, because there isn't anything else.'"

The concept of a permanent standing army for the UN has been floating for decades. Foreign Minister Gareth Evans aired the concept of all nations contributing through some tax system in his department's newsletter, "Peace and Disarmament News" in about August '95. The chiefs of the UN Security Council from 1946-93 were Soviets except for 1955-57 when a Yugoslavian held the post.

Unofficial reports of the significant numbers of military personnel wearing blue berets training in Australia continue. Singaporean and Chinese pilots train in WA. Indonesians have used RAAF Tindall for ages. Singapore leases part of Shoalwater Bay Military Training Area here. Asian air forces train at Oakey Air base.

In May '99 our Defence Minister addressed the People's Liberation Army (PLA) premier National Defence University in Beijing and in May/June 40 senior members of the PLA Air Force (including seven Major General's and senior airbase commanders) led by Maj. Gen. Xu Xinde, Deputy Chief of the PLA Air Force, toured our main RAAF bases. They were briefed on policy, planning, acquisitions, personnel, training, logistics, operations, equipment etc. displays, RAAF base layouts, pilots' opinions, capabilities of our F/A 18s and F-111s, the readiness of the Australian Defence Force (ADF) and the functions of our northern bases. This is the stuff for which espionage agents risk their lives.

In November, General Ji Shengde, the current Director of the Communist Chinese PLA Defence Intelligence Agency visited our Defence Intelligence organisation at its refurbished Russel Hill offices (Asia-Pacific Defence Reporter AUG/SEP 1999). The Sept. does not want to tell me what he was told.

Last year the Foreign Minister was asked about Global Government proposed by the Commission for Global Governance for 2000. His staff directed research on the matter to Internet.

Human Remains Used To Create Art

BY SHELIA HARDWELL-BYRD. MONDAY, 14/2/200. BILOXI, MISS.

Walk through the glass doors of Commander's Gallery, past the conventional oil and pastel paintings, and on the other side of the green curtains you'll find a new art medium -- human ashes. Bettye Jane Brokl, a statuesque woman dressed in black, smiles as she points to the grayish powder nestled between the broad strokes of azure blue and bright red.

It is here that art, death and immortality intermix. Brokl, whose home is in a state where traditional burials are usually the rule, admits her cutting-edge memorials that use human ashes aren't for everyone. "It's not for people who do not believe in cremation. It takes someone that likes unique things and maybe is into the arts. It's done with dignity and taste. The mourning process is not disturbed here," said Brokl, who has patented her process of sealing ashes under glass.

It is an alternative to the urn, she said.

This revealed a quote from the Co-Chairmen of the Commission that,
"THE UN CHARTER IS EVERY COUNTRIES' SUPERIOR LAW."

BEWARE OF NEW EVANGELISM!

The churches of Christendom are being drawn into a modern, more "sensible" "tolerant" "evangelism" which is not the proclamation of the Gospel of Jesus Christ in reality. This New Evangelism has become a black plague! These are some of the symptoms of this "New Evangelism" disease:

Making love the first priority when churches fellowship together. Sound doctrine is

"What about socialisation?"

This question is, how much socialising is going on in public schools?

Our own children have so many groups of friends on a regular basis, there is no lack of socialisation.

But this way we can control the socialisation to make sure it's positive, and we can limit the bad company that produces bad morals. In a public school there is no control of it." (Anita Brand).

left out as a necessity (1 John 5:2,3 ;John 14:21).

Seeking to create arguments, discussion and lines of thoughts that can allow Christianity to be clothed in pagan garb. Yet, nothing will reconcile or help men and systems except the pure Christianity of God's Word.

(11 Peter 1:2-4; Col. 3:16; John 17:17; 1 Tim.6:20).

Always preaching about "positive things." They will say, "God called me to win souls, not to criticise others." This is untrue, for God calls all believers to preach the Good News of the Gospel, but also He calls them to earnestly contend for the Faith!

(Jude 3:4; Acts 20:24-31).

Using the churches as instruments of political and social change. The emphasis is placed on humanitarian concern and social action. But, cooperation with liberal apostates usually begins with welfare work and new evangelistic campaigns. We must separate from heresies and cults on every level.

(II Cor. 6:14-18; 11 Peter 2:1-3; 11 John 10-11).

Finding more to agree about with cults like the SDA, and the Mormons than with staunch, obedient fundamentals! Being soft on cults and aggressively condemning of Bible-based believers. This is a field day for the devil, because doctrine and Truth become more and more confused (Ephesians 5:11; 1 Cor. 15:33).

Keeping an "open-minded" attitude towards the fundamental truths of God's Word. Being "loving" enough to see that every one has their own "opinion." Declaring that we must re-think, re-investigate and re-invent the Faith of Christianity, and thus we must deny the inerrancy and inspiration of the Holy Scriptures in many subtle ways.

(II Tim. 2:15; 1 Cor. 2:14).

Calling those who obey God's Word "legalists" and "extremists."

THE QUESTION OF HOME - SCHOOLING

A recent talk with a member of our accountability structure was valuable.

TEACHERS:

"Home schooling has increasingly become the choice for many families

His family have home schooled for a number of years. The family has found they have bonded as Christians very well, the parents have retained their children's respect. He has remained head of his home. They have seen their family grow in God far more than if the children had departed into state schooling.

over the past two decades. The Home School Legal Defence has commissioned a study of home schooled families nationwide. The average home schooled child ranked higher in every subject and every level than either private or public school counterparts and the longer the student was home schooled the wider this margin became!" (Chuck Missler).

"There was no trouble",
said Mr. Rhys Yarrow,
"with non-socialisation, as the children attended social and sport functions in an "ordinary" way."

"Public schools are not 'public' schools anymore...they are 'government' schools and they took God out of everything."
(Karen Hansen).

Should you have queries about home schooling or its biblical implications, I'm sure Mr. and Mrs. Rhys Yarrow could assist you with your questions. Their phone number is at the end of this article.

"The best thing I've gotten from home schooling is "My kids like me!" They don't think of me as stupid just because they heard something different from a teacher at school. I'm now much closer to my kids. Also the siblings look out for one another, love each other and actually enjoy each other's company...home schooling is a life-style of learning."

of your own questions:

AUSTRALIAN CHRISTIAN CHURCHES LAUNCHED

By Ramon Williams

Sydney, Friday, February 18, 2000

The National Launch of the Australian Christian Churches took place in Sydney, NSW, Australia on Friday, February 18 at the Le Montage restaurant, Leichhardt. Over 400 guests gathered for the auspicious occasion, including Christian politicians, sporting personalities, denominational representatives and overseas guests, including DR. C. PETER WAGNER and BILL HYBELLS.

The Australian Christian Churches (ACC) is a new national alliance gathering member denominations and churches under a unified network. Membership includes the Assemblies of God, Apostolic Churches, Bethesda, Waverly Christian Fellowship of Victoria, Abundant Life Fellowship, the Riverview Community Church of Western Australia and a number of independent churches.

It was claimed that the new network of 1,000 churches, comprising 170,000 members,

"marks the creation of one of Australia's largest mainstream church groups. In terms of Sunday attendance it ranks as the number two Church in Australia".

This occasion was also the launch of the new alliance of welfare groups and services provided by churches associated with the ACC, which was named as the Australian Christian Care (ACCare).

Pastor Pat Mesiti compered the program which was held from 1.30 - 2.30 pm. Musical items were provided by Steve Grace and Darlene Zschech.

The inaugural President of the ACC, Pastor Brian Houston of the Hills Christian Life Centre, said that: "ACC has drawn together a huge network of churches. Together they represent a vibrant, united and thriving Church with answers to the challenges of modern day life. This means a focus on social justice, supporting people in need through our welfare organisations and providing contemporary worship relevant to every sphere of Australian society.

Speaking in favour of the new ACC network, jockey Darren Beadman, the Hon. Bruce Baird MP and Dr. Peter Wagner praised the organisation for its relevance to today's society, the challenges of young people and the "brave" step of faith in amalgamating so many diverse, yet united, worshipping groups.

A highlight was the presentation by the Hon. Alan Cadman MP to Mr. Houston of the actual Australian flag flown on Parliament House for the first day of its sitting for the new year, 2000. A new flag for a new association, for the people and the Lord.

section of Scrivener's book dealing with the KJV "revisions," one initial detail is striking. The first two so-called major revisions of the King James Bible occurred within 27 years of the original printing. (The language must have been changing very rapidly in those days.) The 1629 edition of the Bible printed in Cambridge is said to have been the first revision. A revision it was not, but simply a careful correction of earlier printing errors. Not only was this edition completed just eighteen years after the translation, but two of the men who participated in this printing, Dr. Samuel Ward and John Bois, had worked on the original translation of the King James Version. Who better to correct early errors than two who had worked on the original translation!

Only nine years later and in Cambridge again, another edition came out which is supposed to have been the second major revision. Both Ward and Bois were still alive, but it is not known if they participated at this time. But even Scrivener, who as you remember worked on the English Revised Version of 1881, admitted that the Cambridge printers had simply reinstated words and clauses overlooked by the 1611 printers and amended manifest errors. According to a study which will be detailed later, 72% of the approximately 400 textual corrections in the KJV were completed by the time of the 1638 Cambridge edition, only 27 years after the original printing!

Just as the first two so-called revisions were actually two stages of one process—the purification of early printing errors—so the last two so-called revisions were two stages in another process—the standardization of the spelling. These two editions were only seven years apart (1762 and 1769) with the second one completing what the first had started. But when the scholars are numbering revisions, two sounds better than one. Very few textual corrections were necessary at this time. The thousands of alleged changes are spelling changes made to match the established correct forms. These spelling changes will be discussed later. Suffice it to say at this time that the tale of four major revisions is truly a fraud and a myth. But you say, there are still changes whether they be few or many. What are you going to do with the changes that are still there? Let us now examine the character of these changes.

THE SO - CALLED THOUSANDS OF CHANGES

Suppose someone were to take you to a museum to see an original copy of the King James Version. You come to the glass case where the Bible is displayed and look down at the opened Bible through the glass. Although you are not allowed to flip through its pages, you can readily tell that there are some very different things about this Bible from the one you own. You can hardly read its words, and those you can make out are spelled in odd and strange ways. Like others before you, you leave with the impression that the King James Version has undergone a multitude of changes since its original printing in 1611. But beware, you have just been taken by a very clever ploy. The differences you saw are not what they seem to be. Let's examine the evidence.

to Balaam, from Jehudi to the scribes and Pharisees, from the Dark Age theologians to present-day scholars, the living words of the Almighty God have been prime targets for man's corrupting hand. The attacks on the Word of God are three-fold: addition, subtraction, and substitution. From Adam's day to the computer age, the strategies have remained the same. There is nothing new under the sun.

One attack which is receiving quite a bit of attention these days is a direct attack on the Word of God as preserved in the English language: the King James Version of 1611. The attack referred to is the myth which claims that since the King James Version has already been revised four times, there should be and can be no valid objection to other revisions. This myth was used by the English Revisers of 1881 and has been revived in recent years by Fundamentalist scholars hoping to sell their latest translation. This book is given as an answer to this attack. The purpose of the material is not to convince those who would deny this preservation but to strengthen the faith of those who already believe in a preserved English Bible.

One major question often arises in any attack such as this. How far should we go in answering the critics? If we were to attempt to answer every shallow objection to the infallibility of the English Bible, we would never be able to accomplish anything else. Sanity must prevail somewhere. As always, the answer is in God's Word. Proverbs 26:4-5 states: Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him. Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit.

Obviously, there are times when a foolish query should be ignored and times when it should be met with an answer. If to answer the attack will make you look as foolish as the attacker, then the best answer is to ignore the question. For instance, if you are told that the Bible cannot be infallible because so-and-so believes that it is, and he is divorced, then you may safely assume that silence is the best answer. On the other hand, there are often questions and problems that, if true, would be serious. To ignore these issues would be to leave the Bible attacker wise in his own conceit. I believe that the question of revisions to the King James Version of 1611 is a question of the second class. If the King James Version has undergone four major revisions of its text, then to oppose further revisions on the basis of an established English text would truly be faulty. For this reason, this attack should and must be answered. Can the argument be answered? Certainly! That is the purpose of this book.

THE FOUR SO - CALLED REVISIONS OF THE 1611 KJV

Much of the information in this section is taken from a book by F.H.A. Scrivener called The Authorized Edition of the English Bible (1611), Its Subsequent Reprints and Modern Representatives. The book is as pedantic as its title indicates. The interesting point is that Scrivener, who published this book in 1884, was a member of the Revision Committee of 1881. He was not a King James Bible believer, and therefore his material is not biased toward the Authorized Version. In the

C. PETER WAGNER AND THE GLOBAL THRUST FOR POWER!

The connections from one organisation to another, one movement to another, which is forming the Union of All in this end time One World is very complex. It is difficult in a more compact magazine to line these connections up properly. Should the reader want deeper and fuller documentation on any matter, please write for it with a donation for costs only. There is so much documentation here, please be specific.

Let us then put down a simple Outline here:

- 🌐 National Apostolic-Prophetic 21st Century Church Conference. In Australia, February 1-12 2000. Dr. C. Peter Wagner leads.
- 🌐 Australian Christian Churches - new Force amalgamated in Australia.
- 🌐 The Heart of Australia. Pentecostal groups join forces. February, 2000. Dr. C. Peter Wagner and Bill Hybells initiate.
- 🌐 Hearts on Fire Catholic Conference - July 14-17, 1999. Bill Hybells is mentioned a number of times enthusiastically.
- 🌐 Fuller Theological Seminary and The US Center for World Missions. Connections with Ralph Winter and Jay Gary (UN and NWO facilitator).
- 🌐 UNITED NATIONS Thrust for Unity and Conformity.
- 🌐 US Center for World Missions and the 🌐 UN "Green" Politics Agenda.

The main points on this astonishing merger of many organisations here and in the USA would take a book! Startlingly there is far more behind scenes than one could possibly imagine. One co-worker in America has attempted to get down as much as she can to alert Christians to the activities of Fuller Theological Seminary which has spawned the US CENTER FOR WORLD MISSIONS. The name she uses is Nef. These are a few of her comments when we received a file of info. late last year:

"...I wanted to briefly express my concerns - at the time I thought I was the only one who had 'seen' the whole picture.....[Extreme persecution threatens] force me to send you this in its current form....It is big enough to get me [severely persecuted]! For your information, Nef."

What we have in a nut-shell is that the ACC union here of the Pentecostal Churches is a part of the global movement to bring a gigantic One World Church together under the Luciferic New Age. Nef told of her shock in visiting US Center for World Missions, she saw how huge this organisation is with millions of ties to churches, groups, denominations, missions, the UN groups and countless people involved! The funds available seem to be staggering. I will quote from her hastily prepared notes which we received from her by air mail. She has sent us documentation at cost to herself, not just on Internet, so that we Australians can be alerted to the whole picture. You think this ACC merger is just small potatoes? You are wrong, it is part of massive thrust for global power.

C. PETER WAGNER AND FULLER.

A missions strategist, a Fuller "think tank" genius who has contrived methodologies and strategies for the reintroduction of fake 'gifts' and 'mission' to the churches. He co-authored MC510 Signs and Wonders with John Wimber and took this course globally to every continent. He and John were the implementers of the so-called 'restoration' of the missing 'holy spirit' to the Churches. The Postdenominal Church Movement and AD2000 United Prayer Tract Spiritual Warfare movement are spearheaded by C. Peter Wagner. Involved with him in the work are several dozen church leaders including Francis Frangipane (copastor with Reuven Doron - working under direct authority of Latter Rain leader James Watt), Ed Silvano, T. Haggard, Cindy Jacobs, James Morroco, John Dawson, Esther Linisky, Larry Stockstill, Larry Lea et al.

FROM NEF: [USA]

"Dr. Glasser - who defined the technology of 'progression of integration theory.'"

Basically this was the methodology employed for ecumenism. It is still successfully being used to integrate their doctrines with people globally.

The four steps are:

1. Communication (dialogue and consensus) getting people together so they can "talk" and find areas of agreement..."consensus." The most successful strategy for implementing "communication" has been to hold ecumenical prayer meetings. This has been employed at the city level-regional level, national level, global level, and has been utilised in areas of interest (secretaries, etc.), and among people groups as well...pastors' prayer breakfasts, women's prayer organisations (Aglow), Businessmen (FGBMI), denominations, etc. Concerts of Prayer, and Mission America are currently being employed.

2. Fellowship - due to dialogue and consensus they now begin to like one another, have camaraderie.

3. Co-operation - get together around a common goal or project - like March for Jesus, the Bill Graham Crusades, Spiritual Warfare conferences, General of Intercession, Post-denominational Church Seminars. At this level there are still denominational differences.

4. The fourth and final step of integration is "Association." This is creating a whole NEW ORGANISATIONAL IDENTITY. Inter-denominational groups were an example, people left their denominations and re-grouped into a new "Form."

Promise Keepers appears to be a new Form (even though they adamantly deny this, their group structure promises to EXPLANATION: One of the last ditch defences of a badly shaken critic of the Authorized version 1611 is the "revision hoax." they turn self-confidently to their foes and ask with a smug look, "Which King James do you use, the 1611 or the 1629 or perhaps the 1769?" The shock of this attack and the momentary confusion that results usually allows them time to make good their escape.

Unfortunately, upon entering their castle and closing the door behind them they find that their fortress has been systematically torn down, brick by brick, by a man named Dr. David F. Reagan.

Dr. Reagan pastors the Trinity Baptist Temple in Knoxville, Tennessee. He has written a devastating expose on the early editions of the King James Bible entitled, "The King James Version of 1611—the Myth of Early Revisions."

Dr. Reagan has done an excellent job of destroying the last stronghold of Bible critics. I see neither a way, nor a reason to try to improve on his finding. So I have secured his permission to reproduce his pamphlet in its entirety:

THE ONLY BIBLE - THE AUTHORISED KJV.

Not only has God preserved His pure Word over the years, but Scripture tells us clearly that it must never be added to nor taken away from. God-fearing, Godly men and women have proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that what God has forbidden has been blatantly ignored and in fact tampered with over 6,400 times with changes and deletions in the new versions. (Revelation 22:18,19).

The Textus Receptus has over 5,000 manuscripts from which God's Word has been taken. In the latter part of the 1800s Westcott and Hort (spiritualists) changed the Greek Lexicon and claimed the manuscripts (produced years afterwards) of Vaticanus and Sinaiticus (which by the way disagree in many areas) were the ones to "follow."

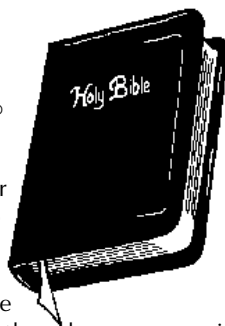

Thinking about this in my prayer time recently it suddenly came to me so clearly why Satan is having such a field day with "Christians" and the churches.

FIRSTLY: Why are Jehovah's Witnesses sticking together so strongly (irrespective of the minority which leave) and why do Mormons have a close-knit following? These two cults I have personally experienced through a relative becoming a Jehovah's Witness some six years ago, and another at one time choosing to join the Mormons. He was baptised into the cult.. Both the Jehovah's Witness and the Mormons have their own "bibles" not masses of different versions, and they share many common beliefs because their members have the same "bible" in common. The JW's are of one mind because they share one scriptural book. The Mormons also share one book, and are of one mind.

SECONDLY: The Bible being so tampered with - new versions with so many changes and variations - has given many main-stream people different "bibles!" Almost every person in a church prayer group finds that their bible does not read like your own Bible, or his or her bible! "My bible says..." is the cry! There are either complete verses deleted or phrases and words changed, or a commentary may say, "it should be translated thus." Or perhaps a church will choose one particular version, and then that group will vary from another "Christian" church in the same town which uses another variation altogether!

"Christians" are differing in so many ways because of these changes and deletions. They are not in unity because they have not got a solid foundation to bind them together in the Word. New versions are copyrighted, each new version is a money-spinner as it changes words yet again and makes a new copyrighted version. It must be different from all others to not break copyright. The Precious Word of God, KJV, should be free for all. The absolute quality of God's Word has been known, appreciated and cherished

FULLER "THINK TANK."

Those involved in the Fuller/ US Center for World Missions global enterprises would shock and surprise the reader! Just a few are Richard Foster, Billy Graham was on the board of trustees, Bill Bright was there during the "think tank" years.....this was a conspiracy! And all these men work in conjunction with David (Paul) Yongi Cho, under the guidance of whom they have modelled their cell group church structure. This cell church structure (and software) includes an integration technology that ties it to Promise Keeper's database, Bethany World Prayer Center, Brigada, et, al. A global database that soon will include every man, woman and child on the earth; where they are, what they are doing, and what ETHNICITY they are! Ethnic cleansing could well be at the root of this monster, and could be a part of a highly kept secret doctrine to eradicate many of those they happily embrace at the moment.

Millions of Christian workers are being utilised to bring about their own destruction, all in the name of evangelising the world...How diabolical...Satanic! Not only does this movement rationalise their need for this information based on a purported need to find the 'hidden people groups' and 'evangelise the world', but countless millions of Christians have been trained up in, and indoctrinated into their methods and mission. Cho has also been active for years, according to Al Dagar's "celebration 2000" report on Jay Gary [Despatch has a booklet on Jay Gary and associates] in the CATHOLIC CHURCH as well. It all comes together at the CHO level (he founded the Church Growth International and is the pastor of what is purported to be the world's largest "Christian" church with over one million members!)

There is literally not one denominational church organisation today that is not at least partially involved in this movement. Many of whom, I am sure, are incredibly gullible and innocent in their participation. (As with all conspiracies the fewer who know the real agenda the better). However, the theology that these promote speaks for itself, and the dearth of true doctrine is the shame of all who join in this movement. They have been deceived into taking up banners, and taking to the streets in a bold display of "power" in Marches for Jesus, because they do not understand the Word of God. The plain fact is that Apostasy is prophesied, not end-time revival of masses. What a huge deception this all is! Our most recent dose of this movement is the "mission America door-to-door data basing in the USA. These are NOT nice people, they are using the churches to set up the numbering system of the ANTICHRIST."

THE US CENTER FOR WORLD MISSIONS AND THE UNITED NATIONS.

The US Center for World Missions now effectively oversees the outreach ministry of the entire global evangelical churches. Under the Lausanne banner, AD 2000 and Beyond Movement, GCOWE, project director was Jay Gary while at US Centre! After directing several notable projects there, Gary went on to found B.E.G.I.N. where he developed an AD 2000 campaign aligned with the UNITED NATIONS. The US Center (which has infiltrated C. Peter Wagner into our midst, with his amalgamation of the Pentecostal churches and groups here in Australia) is an umbrella organisation for nearly every major missions organisation in the world. This is a thinly disguised movement, working with the UN agenda, to take dominion over the whole world and implement a fake "biblical theocracy." This is a political movement of the most powerful order and must not be confused with anything remotely Christianity! It works by "spiritually mapping" every square inch of the globe in huge databases, they use a cell "GRID" to mark every pocket or person or "resistance" to the move of the counterfeit "holy spirit." Targeting every and each true believer who resists the takeover.

Some of the things gleaned from the launch:

The Prime Minister is encouraging ... a new magazine, television commercials and printed material for ACC are com-

Naivety and unwise "trust" is foolish. No one has any right to any of your personal information, that is between you and the Lord.

QUEENSLAND

.. SIEGE ..

The Gympie Times, 26/2/2000

Reported a weird event, an unbelievable intrusion into civilian life which occurred in our own state at Rainbow Beach. Families would have been shocked, as there was no prior warnings. Identification was demanded at check points.

Could the "peace keeping forces" be practising for more than work on "insurgents from a foreign source?"

Could they one day intrude like this to find "insurgents" of a local source?

What right has the Army to subject civilians to this kind of stress?

I quote:

"Rainbow Beach was under siege by daylight yesterday as locals woke up to the sound of military vehicles and the sight of accesses blocked by armoured vehicles and barbed wire.

The siege will last until tomorrow as about 700 troops of the 6th Royal Australian Regiment carry out the final manoeuvres in what has been an almost month-long major training exercise based on the Cooloola coast from the Army's Camp Kerr.

At 4am yesterday the troops moved into Rainbow Beach, sealing off every access to the area from the National Parks boundary to Inskip Point with armoured vehicles, barbed wire, military vehicles and personnel in full combat dress - virtually shutting the town down.

The exercise will last 24 hours a day for three days as troops seek out 'at least 12 characters in town' who are believed to be 'insurgents from a foreign source.'

The troops will continue blockading and patrolling the area day and night, using the latest equipment including night vision goggles as they seek out the 'enemy.' The exercise is the final training for the 6th RAR before they embark to East Timor in April as part of the United Nations peace keeping force.

The operation is being led by Major John McCaffery, who himself was among the first into East Timor when last year's trouble broke out....Providing support to the battalion are 10 light armoured fighting vehicles brought down from Darwin for the exercise. Weighing about 13 tonnes and valued at between $2 and $3 million each, the vehicles made an imposing sight at the check points....

Rainbow Beach locals took yesterday's event in their stride, but many visitors heading for the beach and Fraser Island were wide-eyed as they came over the hill and around a bend into the township to find it blockaded...."

For all the nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.

Rev. 18:2,3

Verse 3 of Revelation 18 can certainly be said to describe the present kings of the earth. Ananda in the Hallway of Osiris has posted a press release, appropriately titled Sandpit Of Royalty, which reveals their great interest in developments in Egypt:

A Final Note:

"Egypt's age-old history and numerous imposing monuments has always had a fascinating effect on kings and queens all over the world. Egypt's leading archaeologist Zahi Hawass has been touring Scandinavia recently and gave lectures to Queen Margrethe in Copenhagen as well as the Swedish King Gustav, Queen Sylvia and 75 members of their family and staff at the royal castle in Stockholm. On those occasions he revealed the most recent and secret finds in Giza."

"Gnosticism appeared originally in Syria. It is in Samaria and the Valley of the Lycos that we trace it for the first time. Simon [the sorcerer] is a man of Gitta and Samaria; Menander is originally of Capparetia - again in Samaria; Satornel is of Antioch; Cerdon is a Syrian; Cerinthus comes from Asia Minor....In the time of Hadrian (A.D. 110-38), Gnosticism passes over from Syria into Egypt: it is in Alexandria that the greatest doctors of the heresy are flourishing - Bacilides, Carpocrates, and Valentinus. Then it reaches Rome; and this is the moment when the Christian doctors realize the importance of heresies which, in the East, had been incubating for a considerable time... Marcion was in Rome from 140, and thence expelled by the Church in 144, being by excommunicated by his own father, the Bishop of Sinope."

Their liturgy (said mainly in liturgical Syriac) is of the Antiochian type, with innovations taken from the Latin rite. Their ecclesiastical head, under the Pope, is called Patriarch of Antioch; he lives in Lebanon... The Maronites have been a distinct community since the 7th cent., when they separated in the doctrinal dispute over Monotheletism; they returned to communion with the Pope in the 12th cent. In the 19th cent., massacres of Maronites by the Druses brought French intervention; this gave France its modern hold in Lebanon and Syria. Besides the Maronites, there are two other groups in Syria in communion with the Pope - the Melkites and the Syrian Catholics."

ing to Australia as a whole.

The president of National Council of Churches, David Gill, is pleased with the union of ACC and says, in essence, "come join us."

The thrust of ACC will be political as well as social and religious. They are Kingdom Now and Prosperity Gospel advocates.

Wagner is awaiting a "critical mass" of Christians to arise to take over the world's political systems.

ACC is a push toward Church Unity and ecumenism.

The Anglicans officially protested by mail the use of the name "Australia Christian Churches" as a name. They insist that it appears like the Pentecostals are the entire Church in Australia!

Brian Houston as the president of ACC is a man who will bring big dollars into the union. He wrote the book "You Need More Money" and insists that the more you give [the church] the more you get from God!

This "prophecy" was given by the global apostate worker,

C. Peter Wagner:

"Australia has the potential to become the first nation in the world to model as a nation the new wine-skins that I am shaping for my church."

He declares that this is the new Apostolic Reformation.

May God help Australia!

THE VATICAN LINK

All Roads Lead to Rome! There is no doubt at all that the Vatican is an enormous political power in the New World Order. The "Green" politics of the Vatican are identical to the New Age Green Movement, with the same adoration of Gaia. When the Olympic Games are staged here we will be seeing, not only a theatre for the NWO, but it will be stage - managed by the Vatican as well. The ties and threads which bring these powers together are innumerable.

Amongst the closest friends of Maurice Strong are:

- 🕒 David Rockefeller,
- 🕒 Lord Rothschild and
- 🕒 Pope John Paul 11!

(SOURCE - "SAVIORS OF THE EARTH?"
BY MICHAEL S. COFFMAN).

OPUS DEI & GREEN POLITICS.

I quote here from the Daily Telegraph, 8th May, 1986. This quote was given in the book, "All Roads Lead to Rome?" by Michael de Semlyen on OPUS DEI:

"Described by Italian politicians as a Holy Mafia, this secretive organisation operates as a kind of spiritual, 'militant tendency'. Pope John Paul 11 seems to have taken it under his wing, and in 1982 he made it a personal prelature. The organisation reports directly into the Vatican to the Pope's prelate, Monsignor Alcaro del Portillo."

Creation-centred spirituality, based on multi-faith, worship of the earth and pagan ideas are bringing mind blowing changes to all areas of our world, not left out is the Roman Catholic Church's political monstrosity. These have led to a swamping of traditional Catholic doctrine with New Age greening doctrines, 'deep ecology' and 'deep ecumenism.'

These quotes from Michael de Semlyen are revealing:

"'Green' issues, so important now politically, have been important to the Vatican from before the beginnings of ecological concern in the 1960s, and have been linked to the Roman Church's leadership of the wider peace movement." (p. 92).

"...Mary, the Mother and Virgin Queen, has near universal appeal. She is already playing a major role in helping to bring together therefore could be invoked to help a woman with any kind of problem -- unlike the Virgin Mary whose own personal purity is an impenetrable barrier for those who would like to share their sexual problems with her. . .Isis, a full-blooded woman who represents a complete female lifecycle. . .Isis, a beautiful girl-goddess to whom women could pray -- with a clear conscience -- about absolutely anything, appealed to women from all cultures. . ." [pp. 77-8]

According to this problematical logic, the superiority of the religion of Isis lies in the fact that it is not intellectually bound by historical fact or doctrinal truth as a stable frame of reference, but requires faith in that which is pure speculation, i.e., superstition. Although it appears the "mindless masses" may soon be informed that Isis and Osiris are fictitious characters, their origins can be traced to an actual historical figure -- Nimrod:

And Cush begat Nimrod: he began to be a mighty one in the earth. He was a mighty hunter before the Lord: wherefore it is said, Even as Nimrod the mighty hunter before the Lord. And the beginning of his kingdom was Babel. . .
Genesis 10:8-10

Alexander Hislop's volume, The Two Babylons, chronicles the global dispersion of the Babylonian mystery religion of Nimrod and Semiramus from remote antiquity to the present era.

"The Babylonians, in their popular religion, supremely worshipped a Goddess Mother and a Son, who was represented in pictures and in images as an infant or child in his mother's arms. . . From Babylon, this worship of the Mother and the Child spread to the ends of the earth. In Egypt, the Mother and the Child were worshipped under the names of Isis and Osiris.* [* Osiris, as the child called most frequently Horus. BUNSEN.] . . It was to glorify Nimrod that the whole Chaldean system of iniquity was formed. He was known as Nin, "the son," and his wife as Rhea, who was called Ammas, "The Mother." The name Rhea, as applied to Semiramis, had another meaning from what it had when applied to her, who was really the primeval goddess, the "mother of gods and men."

[Hislop, p. 20]

Scripture not only identifies the origins of the Babylonian system upon which the Egyptian mystery religion is based, but describes its demonic nature and catastrophic denouement. Pope John Paul II's historic visit to the Egyptian pyramids would seem to argue that Mystery Babylon the Great of Revelation 17 is not confined to the Roman Catholic Church, but encompasses the entire decentralized system of mystery religions -- which will be led by a Masonic Pope to the ash heap of condemned humanity.

And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant. Jer. 51:37

And for this cause God shall send them a strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

II Thess. 2:9

And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

One by one her devotees lie down in a lidless granite sarcophagus. "Heal!" Ma exhorts, striking it with a metal rod, as her acolytes produce an eerie drone from musical bell-jars.

The session ends in the Queen's Room, where the group meditates, humming in unison.

As they activate their energy, an electricity generator powering the lights drones in the background.

Down the corridor come the faint sounds of the guards chatting in the entrance.

"It's just like coming home, that's all I can say. Amazing," says one follower from Israel summing up the general feeling afterwards. This is her first visit to Egypt. "But I know I have been here before, in ancient times," she adds.

Mystery Babylon

To what end is this seemingly eternal quest for the lost civilization of Egypt? One important clue is found in The Templar Revelation, which acknowledges that Isis and Osiris may never have existed but were instead "archetypes" of the ideal state to which mankind will supposedly attain in the New Age:

"Isis...was worshipped as a holy virgin".

But although she was also mother of Horus, this presented no problem to the minds of her millions of followers. For whereas modern Christians are expected to accept the Virgin birth as an article of faith and an actual historical event, the followers of Isis (Isians) and other pagans faced no such intellectual dilemma. To them, Zeus, Venus or Ma'at may or may not have once walked the earth: what mattered was what they embodied. Each of the pantheon ruled over his or her own area of human life; for example, the Egyptian goddess Ma'at dealt with the concept of justice, both in the material world and when the souls of the dead were weighed in the balance. The gods were understood to be living archetypes, not historical characters. Isians did not waste their time searching for cloths that may have wrapped the body of Osiris, nor did they consider it important to find splinters of the box in which he was confined. Far from being an unsophisticated and ignorant religion, theirs appears to have had a profound grasp of the human psyche.

"Isis was worshipped as both Virgin and Mother -- but not as a Virgin Mother. Isians would have considered the notion of the Virgin birth frankly ridiculous: the gods may be capable of wonders, but they do not demand that their worshippers suspend their disbelief quite so much. The worship of most major goddesses emphasized their essential femininity by dividing it up into three main aspects, each representing the lifecycle of real women. First, there is the Virgin, then the Mother, then the Crone; all three are also linked to the new moon, the full moon and the dark side of the moon. Each goddess, including Isis, was understood to stand for the whole female experience, including sexual love, and a one-world religion, and is certainly attracting New Age devotees too. She is readily associated with Mother Earth, the creation from man's perspective and the pagan Earth goddess GAIA." (p.101).

MEANWHILE, BACK AT I.O.C.

Juan Antonio Samaranch, leader of the International Olympic Committee, and the Roman Catholic Secret Society OPUS DEI are hand-in-glove! They serve the Earth Mother, Gaia, with "green" politics.

Feb.18. 2000, in Sydney.

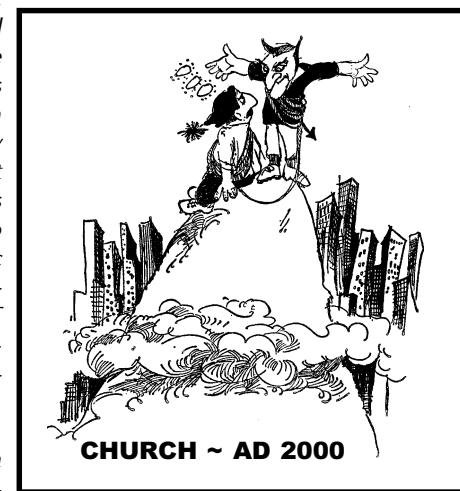

Juan Antonio Samaranch - referred to as "the Head Honcho" of the IOC - was for some reason VERY subdued and of few words when in Sydney recently to inspect the Olympic Games venue sites. (Well...he has been in the International spotlight of recent months regarding the 'outed' corruption concerning numerous IOC officials') For the one-time Spanish Ambassador to Moscow and an early graduate of the IESE - Spain's equivalent of The Harvard University business school in the U.S.. - when elevated to the head of the International Olympic Movement (IOC) in the 1980s, transformed the Olympics into a VAST money-spinning enterprise and, spectacles beyond spectacles for eyes to behold.

Mr. Juan Antonio Samaranch is also a 'SUPERNUMERARI' (non-celibate) member of the Roman Catholic Secret Society "OPUS DEI" and, the IESE 'business school' he graduated from in Spain was founded in 1958 by two OPUS DEI 'NUMERARIES' (celibates as an "extension" of their 'apostolate'). OPUS DEI 'business administration schools' are now set-up all over the world. Not everyone is accepted into this R.C. secret society. Like a tennis club, new members might ask to join, BUT...they have to be COMPATIBLE with the "club's" aims. Since Mr. Samaranch would be answering to a SUPERIOR in both his personal AND business life within the Opus Dei orders, one cannot help but ask the questions WHAT VESTED INTEREST has the VATICAN (since Opus Dei answers ONLY to the Pope and no one else) in the International OLYMPIC GAMES.?"

Pope John Paul II Visits Egyptian Pyramids

Date: February 23, 2000

Pope John Paul II Visits Egyptian Pyramids

From February 24-26, 2000, Pope John Paul II visited the Egyptian Pyramids. The Papal News Service has stated, "Christianity and the world's culture owe much to the Church of Egypt" signals an unhealthy interest in the very Masonic conspiracy which the Vatican of previous centuries pledged to eradicate. Is Pope John Paul II's rapprochement with Freemasonry high treason in the Vatican? Or is it the case that, as Pharaoh entreated Moses, Roman Catholicism never removed very far from Egypt in the first place? This question will be addressed in an upcoming series on The Johannite Church.

And Pharaoh said, I will let you go, that ye may sacrifice to the Lord your God in the wilderness; only ye shall not go very far away. . . Exodus 8:28

"For the first time, a Roman Catholic pope is going to the land of the pharaohs. John Paul II visited Egypt Feb. 24-26 as part of a series of trips to biblical sites in 2000, Reuters said. He will meet with government and religious leaders, including President Hosni Mubarak, Coptic Orthodox Pope Shenouda, and the country's top Islamic leader. The pope will celebrate Mass in the Catholic Coptic Cathedral in Cairo, then visit the monastery of St. Catherine in the Sinai desert, thought to be near the site where Moses received the Ten Commandments." (Religion Today, January 21, 2000)

According to an editorial in the Fides News Service of Rome, founded by the Pontifical Society for the Propagation of the Faith, The Pope will visit Sinai and encourage Egypt's hope:

"Egypt is about to live an historical event: for the first time the Catholic Pope of Rome will visit this Muslim country whose Christians are mainly Orthodox Copts. The visit is part of the pilgrimages to the Holy Land, or Holy Lands as Arabs say, which the Pope has programmed to celebrate the Jubilee of the Year 2000. These journeys, he explains in his letter - A Pilgrimage to the places linked with the history of salvation - "are purely religious, not political" (n. 10). By chance, thanks to Providence, because of human violence around Iraq, the first pilgrimage will be to Egypt, a land which for millennia has linked its existence with that of God. The very name Ad Ka Ptah, means the "house of the heart of God". Ptah, considered the god-creator of the world, was venerated at Memphis, in the Early Kingdom. From him all the other gods of Egypt were born, ending with Osiris, god of the underworld and judge of the dead. The Greeks called this "land of the gods" Aegyptos from which comes the word Copt, initially used to indicate the inhabitants of Egypt, but now used only by Egyptian Christians."

New Age book on the market, "The Templar Revelation", identifies Isis as the Black Madonna, on no less authority than a former head of the Priory of Sion:

"The Black Madonna cult is central to the Priory [of Sion]. . .To them at least, there is no doubt about the significance of the Black Madonna. Pierre Plantard de Saint-Clair writes explicitly, 'The Black Virgin is Isis and her name is Notre Dame de Lumiere [Our Lady of the Lights]." [p. 79]

Cutting Edge Ministries provides an informative exposition of Jeremiah 7:18 which demonstrates that the Papal worship of the Virgin Mary is in essence the worship of the Babylonian Queen of Heaven, who is worshipped today as the Black Madonna by approximately 75% of the world's population!

Although Dr. Hawass protests that Egypt will give no quarter to the Masonic "pyramidists", he has extended a warm welcome to New Age groupies who conduct mysterious rituals in the King's and Queen's Chambers at the Great Pyramid.

FEATURE - Pyramids attract New Age millennium pilgrims

CAIRO, Nov. 29 (Reuters) - Late at night, long after the last foot-sore tourists have headed back to their hotels, pilgrims of a different kind gather silently at the Great Pyramid of Giza.

Forty-four souls, assembled from as far afield as the United States, Britain, Norway, New Zealand and Israel, patiently await security clearance before ascending to the 4,500-year-old structure, whose meaning has confounded minds for centuries.

They gather their crystals, shawls and thoughts of time, climb the steps and file inside the Pyramid one by one.

The crackle of Egyptian police walkie-talkies occasionally punctures the serenity, but these New Age pilgrims are unperturbed. For them, the night vigil is a homecoming.

"We are a group of people from around the world who have come to spend some time with Ma in Israel and Egypt," says George Riemer, a stockbroker from Bend, Oregon.

"The one thing we have in common is that we are all seekers of truth."

Chalanda Ma is the group's Indian-born, California-based guru. A small, intense woman draped in a white sari, she explains the significance of the Great Pyramid.

"The Pyramids carry the consciousness, the constant of light. It is a pure vehicle of light and harvests those seeking for the light and who come here with the knowledge. Space will activate their energy," she says.

Her group has no name. "I have no beliefs, I do not function with beliefs. In the word belief, there is the word lie, and for me this is not the truth," she says.

Ma leads her followers in a two-hour ritual in the King's Room in the heart of the Great Pyramid.

"Ask yourself, are you committed to yourerhood in its many expressions. Peddlers of the New Age fantasy expect the monuments will soon reveal remarkable secrets which will at last lead to the restoration of the lost kingdom of Isis and Osiris, and their son, Horus the King. The latest New Age propaganda claims that Jesus was supposed to communicate to the Jews the good news that the origin of their religion was Egypt -- however, the Apostles botched the Gospel!

"Jesus is presented as having been an initiate of the mysteries of Osiris, the major Egyptian god of his day. . . [who] had passed this esoteric knowledge on to his disciple, John 'the Beloved'. It also claims that Paul and the other Apostles may have founded the Christian Church, but they did so without any knowledge of Jesus' true teaching. They were not part of his inner circle. According to Fabre-Palapat, it was the secret teachings, as given to John the Beloved, which had been preserved and eventually influenced the Knights Templar."

[The Templar Revelation, p. 145]

The following statement informs readers that the Hebrew Roots are in Egypt! [Could this be a future "new revelation" in the Hebrew Roots Movement which already bases its teachings on the Babylonian Talmud?] This disturbing claim appears in the pictorial section of The Templar Revelation with no documentation regarding the pictures shown:

"Archaeological discoveries have shown that Judaism itself had its roots in the religion of Egypt. For example, the 'cherubim' found in a ninth-century B.C. Jewish palace (opposite, below) are strikingly similar to winged Egyptian goddesses (opposite, above) (British Museum). Was Jesus attempting to take Judaism back to its true roots?

"Dope, Inc., by Anton Chaitkin describes the infiltration of Europe with the Isis cult through the mediumship of various high adepts, such as Aleister Crowley, Mme. Blavatsky and other notables:

"Edward Bulwer-Lytton, the leading member of the Rosicrucian Society (the Colonial Minister under Lord Palmerston during the Second Opium War) was also the intellectual mentor of Adolph Hitler, George Bernard Shaw (Fabian), Helena Petrovna Blavatsky, Aleister Crowley, Richard Wagner, Benjamin Disraeli, and Karl Haushofer (founder of the Vril Society which helped propel Hitler to power). In 1886 William Butler Yeats, and several other proteges of Bulwer-Lytton formed the Isis-Urania Temple of Hermetic Students of the Golden Dawn. 'This Isis Cult was organized around the 1877 manuscript Isis Unveiled by Madame Blavatsky, in which the Russian occultist called for the British aristocracy to organize itself into an Isis priesthood.'" [p. 539]

The Pontifical Society for the Propagation of the Faith [Fides News Service] stated, "The Pope will visit Sinai and encourage Egypt's hope." Perchance might Pope Paul II's visit to the Egyptian Pyramids have any connection with the Masonic quest for Horus-King? The Illuminati ceremony in Egypt during the Solar Eclipse of August 11, 1999 is purported to have invoked the Dark Mother, known as Isis in Egypt and various goddesses called the Black Madonna or Black Virgin.

[Pope's special statue for worship is the Black Madonna]

The latest and probably most important

"Christianity and the world's culture owe much to the Church of Egypt. When the era of persecution ended, it was here that monastic life began to flourish with Anthony (circa 251-356) and Pachomius (287-347) transmitting its ideals to Benedict and the entire civilization of Europe. Here the school of Alexandria with Clement and Origen fashioned a magnificent synthesis, combining the best of ancient Greek thought with Christianity, influencing western metaphysics still today. Here, thanks to Cyril, there was the first definition of the dogma of Theotokos, Mother of God, without which the Church could not be called "holy" and infallible". Even the name Pope, was attributed first to the Patriarch of Alexandria and then passed to the Bishop of Rome. Still today Copt-Orthodox and Greek-Orthodox patriarchs are still addressed as holiness, like the Pope of Rome."

The Coptic Church

"Coptic Christianity" is an heretical Gnostic tradition which originated in Syria and proliferated in the early centuries A.D. through Clement's Alexandrian School in Egypt. ¹ Later history associates the Coptic Church with Druidism, euphemistically called "Celtic Christianity." This pagan sect, which migrated to the British Isles, claims that the literal bloodline of Jesus Christ exists today in a royal lineage called the Merovingian Dynasty. Today, the Coptic/Celtic Church is a formidable movement which is spreading its Gnostic heresy, based on counterfeit Scriptures, via the popular New Age Grail legends. In his book, "The Occult Conspiracy", Michael Howard connects Coptic Christianity with Druidism, Gnosticism, Neo-Platonism, the Secret Gospel of Mark and the Priory of Sion:

"In addition to Druidism, the Celtic Church had been influenced by Coptic Christianity. This unorthodox version of the new faith was founded by Clement of Alexandria who had blended the teachings of Jesus with Gnosticism, Judaism and Neo-Platonism. Clement founded his Coptic Church on the Secret Gospel of Mark, written by the evangelist in Alexandria following the death of Jesus. This gospel preserved the inner teachings given by Jesus to his closest disciple who had been initiated into the Christian mysteries. It is interesting that Ormus, the legendary first-century founder of the secret society which became the Priory of Sion, lived in Alexandria and was converted to Christianity by Mark." ²

The Columbia Encyclopedia identifies the doctrine of the Coptic Church as Monophysitism, which was declared a heresy in the 5th century by the Council of Chalcedon. Monophysites maintained that the human and divine in Jesus Christ constituted but one composite nature. The Council of Chalcedon labored to determine the correct terminology which would define the doctrine of the Incarnate Christ as existing in two natures, united in one person. Note that the Coptic Church is in communion with the Jacobite Church, which led the Monophysite opposition to the affirmation of the two natures of Christ by the Council of Chalcedon. The Jacobite Church confesses the "one divine-human nature" of Christ and has historically been separated from the Roman Catholic Church:

"Most Copts belong to the Coptic Church, an autonomous Christian sect that officially adheres to Monophysitism, which was declared (451) a heresy by the Council of Chalcedon. The Church is in communion with the Jacobite Church (also Monophysite) . . .the chief bishop, the Patriarch of Alexandria is in direct succession to the 5th century Patriarchs who embraced Monophysitism. Among the Copts a small minority are in communion with the Pope; these 'Catholic Copts' have their own organizations and churches but share the rites and practices of the Coptic Church. This community began to develop in the 18th cent. Protestant missions have had some success among the Copts. Besides Copts there are orthodox communities, mainly Greek and Syrian; the Orthodox Patriarch of Alexandria traces his succession to the Catholics of the 5th century. There are also many Catholic Syrians, mainly Melkites and Maronites." 3,4.

During his visit to Egypt, Pope John Paul II will say Mass at the Catholic Coptic Cathedral. This would appear to be the "Catholic Copts" mentioned above which share the rites and practices of the Coptic Church. Research of the liturgy of the Coptic Mass disclosed that this ritual is the ancient worship of Horus, the Sun-god, as the Egyptian "Christ". Dr. Ragheb Mofteh, whom the Coptic patriarch called "the father of hymnology," and his British colleague, Ernest Newlandsmith, have spent their lives collecting the hymns to be chanted in Coptic Masses and syncretizing Ancient Egyptian and Western hymnology.

Preserving Pharos Psalms FOR CHRIST "Mofteh, whom the Coptic patriarch has called "the father of hymnology," has been doggedly gathering, recording and transcribing this ephemeral mass of material since meeting a young English ethnomusicologist named Ernest Newlandsmith 71 years ago. His extraordinary longevity is dwarfed only by the age of his subject. According to Mofteh, Coptic Church chant is the oldest liturgical music in the world. Its Christian origins are tied to those of the Coptic Church itself, which appeared with St. Mark in Alexandria in roughly 45 A.D. But at least some of the new church hymns were based on melodies used in odes to the pharaonic era deities of Isis and Osiris in their temples.

"A number of pharaonic elements have remained in Coptic music. . .The famous hymn "Kyrie Eleison" may have descended from prayers to Aton, the sun god. . .

"While Coptic chant predates Islam, the work of Coptic cantors and the recitation of the Holy Quran probably influenced each other, and both share common elements with the ancient, and continuing, Jewish institution of master singers in the synagogue. . .

"At an early age, Mofteh found himself enchanted by the haunting music of the Coptic Mass. . . Newlandsmith, a fellow of the Royal Academy of Music, was. . . [a] monastic eccentric for 20 years. [I]n 1940 he married Maria Romero, a British diplomat's daughter who reportedly believed her ancestors came from the lost continent of Atlantis.

"A true believer in the pharaonic roots of Coptic incantation, Newlandsmith added, 'It seems impossible to doubt but that this is Ancient Egyptian. Moreover, it is great music: grand, pathetic, noble and deeply spiritual.'

"Later in 1977 Lambert Dolphin travelled to Virginia Beach to negotiate funding from the Edgar Cayce organization for a proposed new SRI project at Giza. The purpose of this project was to use the latest remote sensing technology to search for hidden chambers around and under the Sphinx -- with Lehner again 'participating as the Edgar Cayce Foundation's "man in Cairo". Several underground cavities were detected by this Sphinx Exploration Project.

"In 1978 Mark Lehner proposed a project on the Sphinx to the American Research Centre in Egypt. The project, again partially financed by the Edgar Cayce group, was approved and went ahead with Lehner as its Field Director. Soon afterwards a United States registered company called Recovery Systems International (RSI) appeared on the scene. As we saw in Chapter 5, it undertook core drillings in front of the Sphinx to investigate the promising underground cavities previously pinpointed by SRI.

"In 1983 Hugh Lynn Cayce died and the management of the Edgar Cayce group was handed to his son, Charles Thomas Cayce. In the same year, The Independent Mars Project was set up in the United States by Richard Hoagland, a former NASA consultant, and Lambert Dolphin. Meanwhile in 1987 Dr. Zahi Hawass completed his education in the United States and returned to Egypt to be appointed as the EAO's Director General of the Giza Plateau.

"In (1983) The Independent Mars Project was set up in the United States by Richard Hoagland, a former NASA consultant, and Lambert Dolphin. . . "

"In March 1996 Dr. Hawass announced that the Egyptian scientist Farouk El Baz (whose name...translates into ancient Egyptian as Horus) had been chosen to lead a team to open the secret door inside the Great Pyramid at the end of the southern shaft of the Queen's Chamber. (pp. 313-14)

Isis ~ The Black Madonna

In the Egyptian mystery religion, the stars are worshipped as gods and are believed to govern the affairs of mankind. Applying the Masonic axiom "As Above, So Below" to the pyramids of Egypt explains why there is so great an interest in these monuments. Hancock and Bauval maintain that the various areas of the pyramids were built with intricate precision so they would be aimed at certain stars and constellations.

"From the Queen's Chamber. . .[t]he southern shaft. . . was aimed at the bright star Sirius. . . This star the ancients associated with the goddess Isis, cosmic mother of the kings of Egypt. . . From the King's Chamber. . .[t]he southern shaft. . .was aimed at Al Nitak (Zeta Oionis) . . .which the ancient Egyptians identified with Osiris, their high god of resurrection and rebirth and the legendary bringer of civilization to the Nile Valley in a remote epoch referred to as Zep Tepi, the 'First Time'." [The Message of the Sphinx, p. 65] connected the opening to the second coming of Christ and asserted that the contents of the Hall would not be shared with the general public until many years after it had first been entered by three who would make of the perfect way of life." (The Message of the Sphinx, p. 306) Also documented in "The Message of the Sphinx", by Hancock and Bauval, is the noteworthy role played in the Edgar Cayce enterprise at Egypt by one Lambert Dolphin, a Stanford Research Institute physicist who became a Christian in 1962 and is now an influential minister and Bible teacher with a large following and extensive website of Resource Files. In 1977, Lambert Dolphin travelled to Virginia Beach to negotiate funding from the Edgar Cayce organization for the SRI project at Giza and, in 1983, as a consultant to NASA and leader of the SRI project at the Great Sphinx, [he helped set up the Independent Mars Project].

It seems that in 1972 the first photographs from Mariner 9 had revealed an area of Mars known as the Elysium Quadrangle where there were four massive tetrahedral pyramids in close proximity and aligned in a definite pattern. The next phase of exploration occurred in 1975 when NASA launched the twin probes Viking 1 and Viking 2. Viking 1 photos produced in 1976 revealed in another area of Mars, Cydonia, the image of a human face and pyramid like structures. The London Daily Mail reported in Aug. 17-19 1996:

"Former NASA consultant Richard Hoagland is convinced there may be a 'terrestrial connection' between Giza and Cydonia - the region of Mars where the mysterious structures are located - perhaps a common source that imparted the same legacy of knowledge and symbolism on both worlds. Hoagland's interest in Giza began when he met Dr. Lambert Dolphin, a scientist from the Stanford Research Institute (SRI) who had conducted radar and seismographic research to locate hidden chambers near and under the Great Sphinx. Dr. Dolphin was captivated by Hoagland's idea of a 'Martian Sphinx' - the Face - and, in 1983, was instrumental in helping Hoagland set up the Independent Mars Investigation Project under the aegis of SRI..."

Authors of "The Message of the Sphinx" provide a chronology of events involving Lambert Dolphin and his Stanford Research Institute team whose expertise in using remote sensing technology to search for hidden chambers around and under the Sphinx made possible Dr. Hawass' later discovery of the Tomb of Osiris:

"According to ECF/ARE historians the 1973-4 and 1977 projects paved the way for work. . . that would succeed in discovering hidden chambers. Exactly how and where is not made clear. At any rate in 1978 the ECF/ARE collaborated with the SRI and provided funds (to the tune of about US $50,000) for a more detailed survey of the Sphinx enclosure and the nearby Sphinx Temple." (p. 91)

"Back in Egypt in 1977, a year after the Viking images had first reached the Earth, Mark Lehner [A.R.E.'s man at Giza] made contact with NASA's Dr. Lambert T. Dolphin, leader of the Stanford Research Institute project at the Sphinx. The reader will recall from Chapter 5 that Lehner was by then already well acquainted with Zahi Hawass.

"He also saw Moftah as a bridge between nations, 'a man of very remarkable gifts, a leading spirit in many of the higher reforms of Egypt and a thinker whose work in the near future may count for much in establishing a happier understanding between Egypt and the people of England.' It is not known what work Newlandsmith had in mind exactly, but presumably it was about Moftah's contributions to explaining the likely link between Ancient Egyptian and Western music."

"In 1931, they stopped briefly to complete Newlandsmith's return to England together. There they lectured on the glories of Coptic music - its first recognition in the West since it reached Ireland with Egyptian missionaries around the fifth century - at Oxford and Cambridge universities, among other places. Once, at Oxford, they had a special visitor in the audience - a young physicist named Albert Einstein. The lectures drew many notices in the press, which seized on the theme of Western music's hitherto neglected Egyptian roots."

The reference to recitation of the Koran (Holy Quran) in Coptic liturgy may offer some clue as to why, in May of 1999, Pope John Paul II bowed and kissed the Muslim holy book presented to him by a Muslim delegation led by the Patriarch of Babylon of the Chaldeans.

"In May 1999, during an audience granted to three Muslims at the Vatican, Pope John Paul II bowed to the Muslim holy book, the Koran, and kissed it (Christian News, Oct. 18, 1999, p. 16). The three Muslims were the Shiite Imam of Khadum mosque, the Sunni president of the Iraqi Islamic Bank, and a representative of the Iraqi ministry of religion.

The photo of the gesture has been shown repeatedly on Iraqi television. . . A mere six months later, Indonesian Muslims demonstrated their reply to the Pope's gesture by slaughtering Roman Catholics in East Timor who had voted their independence from Indonesia." [Fundamental Baptist Information Service, November 4, 1999]

The Koran rejects the fundamental doctrines of Christianity: the Trinity, the Deity of Christ, the eternal Sonship of Christ, and His death and resurrection:

The Trinity and Deity of Christ: "Christ Jesus the son of Mary was (no more than) an apostle of Allah, and His Word, which He bestowed on Mary, and a spirit proceeding from Him: so believe in Allah and His apostles. Say not "Trinity" : desist: it will be better for you: for Allah is one Allah. Glory be to Him: (far exalted is He) above having a son. To Him belong all things in the heavens and on earth. And enough is Allah as a Disposer of affairs." (Koran, Surah 4:171)

Pre-existence of Jesus: "The similitude of Jesus before Allah is as that of Adam; He created him from dust, then said to him: 'Be'. And he was." (Koran, Surah 3:59)

Sonship of Christ: "Regarding Sonship of Jesus: That is Jesus, son of Mary, in word of truth, concerning which they are doubting. It is not for God to take a son unto Him. Glory be to Him! When He decrees a thing, He but says to it " Be", and it is.

(Qur'an 19:34,35)

(The Institute of Islamic Information and Education)

Death and Resurrection of Christ:

"Regarding Crucifixion of Jesus: And for their unbelief, and their uttering against Mary a mighty calumny, and for their saying, 'We slew the Messiah, Jesus son of Mary, the Messenger of God'. . . yet they did not slay him, neither crucified him, only a likeness of that was shown to them. Those who are at variance concerning him surely are in doubt regarding him, they have no knowledge of him, except the following of surmise; and they did not slay him of certainty. . . no indeed; God raised him up to Him; God is Almighty, All-Wise. There is not one of the people of the Book but will assuredly believe in him before his death, and on the Resurrection Day he will be a witness against them."

(Qur'an 4:156-159) (The Institute of Islamic Information and Education)

The Vatican News Service supplied the following explanation for the incredulous among the Catholic faithful who demanded reasons for the Pope's embrace of the Koran.

Why did the Pope kiss the Koran?: a book in Italian on basics of Islam

Rome (Fides) "At the end of the audience the Pope bowed to the Muslim holy book the Koran presented to him by the delegation and he kissed it as a sign of respect." This was said by Raphael Bidawid, Patriarch of Babylon of the Chaldeans who told Fides about his audience with Pope John Paul II on May 14th when he was received with a delegation composed of the Shiite imam of Khadum mosque and the Sunni President of the council of administration of the Iraqi Islamic Bank and also a representative of the Iraqi ministry of religion.

That gesture was a sign of the Holy Father's respect for the billion and 34 million followers of Islam, as well as his eagerness to make a pilgrimage in the footsteps of Abraham, the common father of Christians, Jews and Muslims.

Recently a book on Islam was published in Italian by EMI with the title "I fondamenti dell Islam. Un introduzione a partire dalla fonte: il Corano". The book, originally in German, is written by Adel Theodore Khoury from Lebanon, who, until 1996, was professor at Muenster University in Germany. The book presents the figure of Mohammad, his life and mission and shows that the Prophet understood the relation between the religions of the Book, the Jewish religion, Christianity and Islam: it could be useful for promoting Christian/Muslims relations.

[Fides News Service (Rome), 11/6/99]

To what end are the Pope's overtures to Islam and the Coptic religion? A New Age book, "Messiah & The Second Coming", is authored by two members of the Coptic Fellowship and published by the Coptic Press. The backcover gives a brief description of the esoteric belief system of Coptic Fellowship International:

"John Davis is Director of Coptic Fellowship International, an action oriented new age organization presenting Universal Wisdom as passed down through the ages in the great tradition of the Atlantean Doctrines to the present day. The Coptics are dedicated to the Spiritual Unity of Nations (S.U.N.), cooperating with leaders of religions and philosophies stressing spiritual World unity. John has conducted Christ Consciousness Training Seminars extensively throughout the U.S. and in Mexico, Canada, South Africa, uled for the eve of the Millennium. The abrupt change of plans was reportedly due the wide publicity about New Age theories of a lost civilization called Atlantis which is said to have built the Egyptian monuments. Before the decision to cancel the capping of the pyramid, Reuters announced Hawass' displeasure with this Atlantean nonsense in an article, "Millennium music will make pyramids pulsate":

"Hawass, director of the Giza plateau, wants to drive home a message that the pyramids were created by ancient Egyptians, not Freemasons, Jews, aliens or the lost civilization of Atlantis.

'By putting the capstone on top of the pyramid we are saying that we are the originators of this civilization', he says.

MASONIC CLAIM SNUBBED

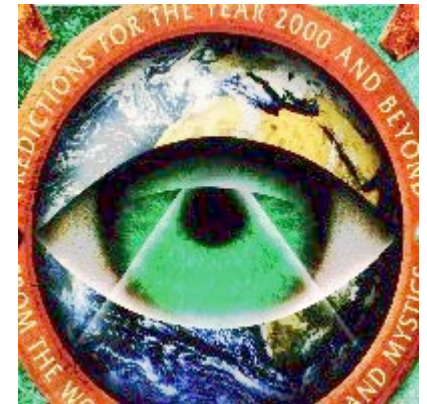

"Hawass has planned the highlight of the night's revelry as a riposte to claims propagated on the Internet that the capstone symbol rightly belongs to Freemasons, not ancient Egypt. 'The Masons are using a wrong imitation of the capstone of the Middle Kingdom, he declares." [Reuters, 12/9/99]

Considering Dr. Hawass' aversion to the Atlantis cult, it seems rather unusual that in August of 1998, he would make a presentation to A.R.E. [the Association for Research and Enlightenment of the Edgar Cayce Foundation] Conference. At the conference Dr. Hawass reported that a recent excavation had led to a deep shaft found under the causeway midway between the Khafre pyramid and the Sphinx -- the place where Hawass discovered the Tomb of Osiris in March of 1999 or February, 2000, or both. At that time [1998], Dr. Hawass told the A.R.E. that he believed this shaft to be a (or the) Tomb of Osiris, and "in some way connected at least symbolically with the Osirion at Abydos."

A prophecy by the late psychic, Edgar Cayce foretold that a Hall of Records at the Great Sphinx at Giza would be rediscovered and opened between 1996 and 1998 and that this discovery would be related to the second coming of Christ:

"Headquartered in Virginia Beach in the United States . . . the A.R.E. [Association for Research and Enlightenment] is a multimillion dollar organization that exists to promulgate the teachings and prophecies of the American psychic

Edgar Cayce, who died in 1945. Prominent amongst Cayce's pronouncements were many statements. . . to the effect that the Sphinx had been built in 10,500 BC by the survivors of Atlantis who had concealed beneath it a Hall of Records containing all the wisdom of their lost civilization and the true history of the human race. Cayce prophesied that this Hall of Records would be rediscovered and opened between 1996 and 1998. He Matters Arising - the facts presented in the programme raise a few questions.

"This section highlights some discrepancies between the discovery of this location as reported in the television programme and other historical reports. It also suggests why Herodotus was told that this location - if indeed it is the same one - was Khufu's burial chamber, and for comparative purposes gives examples of other locations also called the 'Tomb of Osiris'.

"From points 1 and 2 above, Doctor Hawass discovered the subterranean chamber recently, however it is clear from the Excavations At Giza excerpt reproduced on page 1 and the London Daily Telegraph article of the 4th March 1935 reproduced on page 3 that the location was known about many years ago.

"From points 5, 6 and 8 above, on clearing the second level chamber Doctor Hawass found six sidechambers cut into the rock and the shaft descending to the third level chamber. Two of the sidechambers contained red granite sarcophagi, Again, it is clear from the reports cited above that Doctor Selim Hassan was fully aware of the layout of the second chamber with its sidechambers and also of the shaft to the third level, although he believed the two monolithic sarcophagi to be of basalt rather than granite."

Another Egyptology website, Ananda in the Hallway of Osiris, features pictures showing details of the proposed tomb of Osiris and the Giza site and claims that

Dr. Hawass' story is consistent with the 1935 discovery:

"Parts of this discoveries are not new at all. Two levels underground had been discovered in 1935, where the Daily Telegraph, of England, published on March the 10th the details of this Tomb. The Osiris section was underwater, however."

Dr. Hawass and the Masonic Egyptologists have engaged in a longstanding controversy regarding the dating of the pyramids, according to Masonic authors, Graham Hancock and Robert Bauval, who were among Hawass' opposition until a recent reconciliation was announced.

"In 1993-4 . . . Dr. Zahi Hawass appeared to be adamantly opposed to the notion that the Sphinx might be far older than ancient Egypt - and thus the work of a lost civilization. The reader will recall that the EAO official was particularly incensed by the NBC television film, The Mystery of the Sphinx, that was made about the work of John Anthony West. . . The NBC documentary linked the Sphinx to Atlantis and suggested that the chamber Thomas Dobecki's seismograph had detected beneath its paws might have some sort of time capsule of Atlantean wisdom and history. Hawass called these claims: 'American hallucinations. West is an amateur. There is absolutely no scientific base for any of this. We have older monuments in the same area. They definitely weren't built by men from Atlantis. It's nonsense and we won't allow our monuments to be exploited for personal enrichment. The Sphinx is the soul of Egypt.'"

[The Message of the Sphinx, pp. 305-6]

In late December of 1999, Dr. Hawass cancelled the replacement of the Great Pyramid capstone that had been sched-

France and Egypt. He is the successor to the Egyptian Master, Hamid Bey, who founded The Coptic Fellowship of America." 5.

The Tomb of Osiris

By strange coincidence, one month before the Pope's scheduled visit to Egypt, the tomb of the Egyptian Sun-god, Osiris, was discovered in a shaft between the Great Sphinx and the Pyramid of Khafre.

Egyptians Find Tomb of Ancient God Osiris

Thursday February 17, 2000

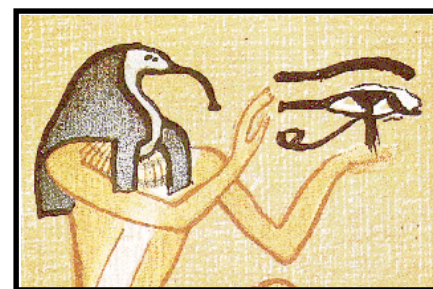

GIZA, Egypt (Reuters) - Sinking water levels have revealed a granite sarcophagus of the ancient Egyptian god Osiris in a 30-meter (98 feet) deep tomb at the Giza pyramids, Egyptian archaeologist Zahi Hawass said Wednesday.

Osiris was one of the most important gods of ancient Egypt who according to mythology was murdered by his wicked brother Seth. He was buried by Isis, his sister-wife, and brought back to life as judge of the dead and ruler of the underworld.

Hawass said the sarcophagus, which he dated to 500 BC in the New Kingdom, was surrounded by the remains of four pillars built in the shape of a hieroglyphic 'Bir' or 'House of Osiris'. The excavation unearthed 3,000-year-old bones and pottery found in the underground water, he said.

"I never excavated this shaft because it was always full of water. But when the water went down about a year ago, we started the adventure," he told Reuters.

After dirt and most of the remaining water were cleared from the shaft, located between the Sphinx and the Pyramid of Chefred (Khafre), archaeologists found three underground levels, with the submerged Osiris sarcophagus at the lowest.

"Many people believed there were tunnels going to the Sphinx and another leading to the Great Pyramid but only when we sent a young boy into a tunnel in the west wall (of the tomb shaft) did we find this exciting discovery," said Hawass.

Dr. Hawass is the Undersecretary of the State for the Giza Monuments and Director of the Pyramids, whose official website, The Plateau, advertises Egypt's extensive excavation of the ancient monuments. Of interest, the surname "Hawass" derives from "Aiwass" [Horus], who was the spirit guide of Aleister Crowley (1875-1947), head of the English branch of the infamous Ordo Templi Orientis. The OTO is a secret society at one point headed by the leader of the German Secret Service. Crowley also worked for the British and American intelligence services during World Wars I and II; however, it is said that he boasted openly of his occult influence on Adolf Hitler.

"Aleister Crowley is the occultist and Satanist that is maybe the most well known. His works "The Book of the Law", "Magick in Theory and Practice" and "The Book of Thoth" are broadly used in occult circuits. Crowley himself didn't take much credit for having written them, as he stated they were written by automatic handwriting, being channelled from a higher being called Aiwaz (or Aiwass). This being said he had lived in Caldea during the reign of Hammurabis (around 1750 BC), but later, in his book "Magick in Theory and Practice", Crowley identified Aiwaz as his own genius. He was actually very proud of this book, which he used as a Bible for his own religion - Thelema. Crowley looked at man as a sleeping god who gradually started to understand what powers he possesses. He also taught that Satan was identical with the Sumerian devil/god Shaitan, who he stated had been worshipped in the Egyptian deserts long before the ages of the Pharaohs. . . Crowley's messenger taught that the old Age of Osiris soon would follow by the new Age of Horus. But first Earth must bathe in blood. There should be a World War(!)"

Crowley, Hitler & World War II

"In distinction, Crowley claimed that, on the 8th of April 1904 in Cairo at 12 noon exactly and for the following two days at the exact same time he actually heard a voice in his ear, dictating the words of the text (as if through some transmitter in his brain), and that he transcribed them faithfully. It was not inspired, then, so much as received. The voice itself claimed to be that of Aiwass, or Aiwaz, the minister of Hoor-paarkraat, or otherwise, Horus the god of force and fire, child of Isis and Osiris, and self-appointed conquering lord of the New Aeon, officially announced through his chosen scribe, the prince-priest of the Beast. This much of Crowley's controversial life and claims is more or less confirmed. It is, as promised, to be found there in the writings themselves the proof as it were is in the pudding. Anyone who has read the work, and suffered the resulting conflictive feelings of admiration and disgust, will not doubt that there is something about the little red book that puts it in a class all its own. It might be argued that it is simply the work of a poetic genius, were it not for the fact that Crowley was to prove again and again in subsequent works that, for all his magikal prowess and philosophical brilliance, he was anything but a poetic genius. It seems rather as though the book partakes not of the qualities of Crowley, but that, conversely, Crowley himself grew over time to partake of the qualities of the book. And this he did, by his own admission, with boundless reluctance and distaste."

On March 2 of 1999, a special two-hour TV program on the Fox Channel featured the opening of the sealed tombs of the Unknown and the Queen's Pyramid at Giza in Egypt. Dr. Zahi Hawass has served in different capacities as Director of the Egyptian Antiquities Organization, Director General of the Giza Plateau and Saqqara, and presently Undersecretary of the State for the Giza Monuments, Director of the Pyramids. Dr. Hawass presented information on the search for the Hall of Records at the Great Sphinx which is believed by Freemasons and assorted New Agers to contain the records of the lost civilization of Atlantis. To his amazement, Dr. Hawass found instead the tomb of the Egyptian god, Osiris. However, we have been unofficially informed that this televised special was a hoax, according to the letter below dated

Aug. 28, 1999:

Dear Sir

I have been in correspondence with Dr. Zahi Hawass while researching my book. I too watched the TV special about the "discovery" of the hidden tomb under the Sphinx. Many other knowledgeable historians and Egyptologists have had a little chuckle over that one. It is generally accepted that this program was simply eye candy for the mindless masses.

With a little luck and good management My myself and my writing partner will have our book out in the near future. It will reveal the truth about a good many things that you have mentioned. We are both Master Masons and avid historians.

Don't expect for us to reveal any Masonic secrets, but many of the common conspiracies regarding the true nature of the global power structure, the real purpose of the pyramids and the truth about many of the stories in the bible.

It is our intention to offer this up to open minds that are welded shut by the sort of nonsense that people like yourself spew out.

I mean no disrespect, but I know the truth, from the inside out and you are off by a long shot.

Here is a little tid bit for you to chew on.

The "Kings chamber" in the Great Pyramid was never intended to house a dead king. It vault in it's center is a perfect match for the Arc of Moses. The Arc described in the book of Exodus is an exact copy of the Box of Ra (Egyptian God) not only it's dimensions but the material it was constructed of.

The cap stone of the Great Pyramid was made of solid gold, (According to the hieroglyphics) which was connected to the king's chamber by metal rods.

Now the kicker to the whole thing. The Arc: it's construction was duplicated by a British scientist based on all the available information. It was found to be a basic but effective capacitor (electronic energy storage device) By setting it on acidic ground or in a salt water solution it generated and discharged a massive electrical charge.

That would explain the references in the bible to the bolts of fire and light that struck down the enemies of God's "chosen" people.

Now . . .word has it that the gold cap stone will be replaced in commemoration of the millennium. Makes you wonder what else will be replaced.

I await your reply.

Yours Truly Alex

Furthermore, Dr. Hawass' excavation of the Giza pyramids in March of 1999 has been investigated by Egyptologists who claim that the chambers "discovered" by Hawass were known in 1935 and believed at that time to be the 'Tomb of Osiris'.
